RESOLUTE WAS IN THE LEAD

Both Americans and British Straining Every Nerve to Win the Third Race

(Associated Press)
Sandy Hook, July 21.—A dead calm on the racing lanes was prevailing this morning when the crews of the Shamrock and the Resolute prepared to make sail for today's contest. It looked at an early hour as if the contest might be postponed.

CREWS UP ON THEIR TOES

At 11:30 the regatta committee ordered postponement of the race at 15 minute intervals. There was scarcely a breath of air. Both crews were impatient. The Shamrock supporters were eager to add the third victory and take the New York cup, while the Resolute's crew hoped to begin the task of winning three straight.

RESOLUTE GOING WITH A RUSH

Sandy Hook, July 21, 2:20 p. m.—The Shamrock led across the line. The course as announced was a beat to a point about eight miles off Asbury Park with a run back to Ambrose channel lightship, each leg 15 miles. The Shamrock started 22 seconds after one o'clock and the Resolute crossed the line 19 seconds later. At 1:25 the Shamrock had an one-eighth mile lead and was gaining rapidly in a four-knot breeze. Four minutes later the Shamrock was leading by three-eighths of a mile. At 2:22 the Resolute had made up the loss and was leading by a quarter of a mile.

FARM NOTES BY THE COUNTY AGENT

A matter that deserves more attention by the farmers of the county is the storage of sweet potatoes. The common practice is to bank them in hills out in the open, which results in a large percentage of loss from decay. This annual waste can be avoided if the essentials of good storage are observed in the use of some kind of a storage house. The requisites for good keeping of potatoes are (1) they should be fully matured before digging, (2) carefully handled, (3) thoroughly cured after being stored, and (4) kept at a uniform temperature after being cured. To observe these points to the best advantage, it will be necessary to have a house planned and built for this specific purpose after the design of the potato houses worked out by the U. S. department of agriculture. But in view of the expense of building at present prices of materials and labor, it will be wise to look around and see if there is not some unused tenant house or some other old building on the place that can be converted into a potato storage house at very little expense. The same methods of insulating and ventilating can be used in remodeling old structures as are recommended for a new storage house and, while in every case the worked over building may not be just as conveniently arranged as a new one planned for the special purpose of a storage house, will prove just as successful. Any one interested in potato storage can obtain information from this office as to plans for buildings and methods of handling the potatoes.

The first step in the selection of seed corn is the choosing the stalk. Seed ears should not be taken from any but desirable stalks and the only way to be sure of doing this is to go out in the field now before the stalks are too ripe and flag them while their individual characteristics can be judged. After the stalk is full ripe and has become dry it is difficult to pass on its real merits. One of the best ways to mark a stalk is to tie a rag string around it.

The things to look for in a stalk are a good root system, a thick base gradually tapering toward the top, a large number of wide leaves, freedom from suckers and a good ear placed slightly below the middle point of a stalk of medium height. Also, care should be taken that no smut and barren stalks are in the immediate vicinity of a stalk that is selected. It should be borne in mind that the stalk is the individual and plays as large a part in corn production as the individual does in livestock production. And all of us know how careful the animal breeder is in choosing the individuality of his breeding stock. Likewise we must give as much importance to the good points of the corn plant, if we expect to breed up our corn to as good performance as the livestock breeder has brought his animals.

The second step in gathering seed corn is consideration of the ear. This can be done after the ears have been gathered from the desirable stalks which have been selected and marked as indicated above. Only ears of good shape, having well filled grains fitting tightly together, with straight rows should be taken for seed purposes. Attention to these points will improve the visible character of any corn, but the improvement in productivity must be accomplished by persistent selection of the most productive ears. Wm. A. Sessoms, County Agent.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

At the board of trade room there was organized in this city a few weeks ago a camp of United Spanish War Veterans, Dr. John O'Donoghue, of Tampa, a special aide-de-camp of the organization's commander-in-chief being present in the capacity of organizer.

Veterans representing Ocala, Bellevue, Anthony and Citra took part in the organization of the camp. The majority of those present had served in Company A (Ocala Rifles), First Florida Volunteer Infantry. Others had been connected with Georgia, Virginia, Minnesota and regular army organizations.

The name selected was Fitzhugh Lee Camp No. 11, Department of Florida, thereby honoring the memory of a hero of two wars.

The following officers were elected: Commander, W. T. Gary; senior vice commander, C. V. Roberts; junior vice commander, F. W. Ditto; officer of the day, C. W. Hunter; officer of the guard, C. A. Harris; trustees, Baxter Carn, J. W. Akin and W. T. Gary. The commander made the following appointments: Adjutant quartermaster, W. A. Knight; chaplain, J. W. Akin.

A committee was appointed to prepare suitable by-laws for the government of the camp, while another committee was selected to secure a place of meeting. The camp decided to meet on the third Friday of each month.

It is planned to have a luncheon now and then and to invite comrades from other camps to visit and speak before the latest formed, or "baby" camp of the state.

Since the first meeting several additional members have been received, the membership now numbering 21.

Mr. E. C. Bennett and Mr. W. T. Gary represented the camp at the state encampment recently held at Miami. They report having been shown many courtesies by the members of Pershing Camp No. 10, U. S. W. V., and by the citizens of Miami. The commander of the local post of the American Legion was an invited guest at the splendid banquet tendered the visiting delegates and made an inspiring fraternal address, paying tribute to the volunteers of '98 and pointing out the similar objects for which the two organizations were laboring, both standing square for 100 per cent Americanism.

The United Spanish War Veterans was organized in 1904, being an amalgamation of several organizations growing out of the Spanish-American War.

It is the desire of the local post to have on its roll the names of all veterans of '98 living in this vicinity. One of its members is from our sister county of Lake, having served in Company A, and others residing in adjoining counties have been invited to join Fitzhugh Lee Camp if membership is not held elsewhere. All eligibles will be welcome.

The objects of the organization are officially set forth as follows: To unite in fraternal bonds, through national, state and local organizations, those men who served in the military or naval establishments of the United

INFLUENCE OF THE NEWSPAPERS

Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, Addressed the Southern Publishers

Asheville, N. C., July 21.—The making of international relations of the future is largely in the hands of the newspapermen of America and the British Empire, Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, declared today in an address at the annual meeting of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association.

The hope of mankind that the last great war has been fought, Sir Auckland said, could be turned by the newspaper writers of the English speaking world either to cruel mockery or advance toward realization.

Mutual understanding between the British commonwealth of nations and the United States matters more to the English speaking people and to the world than anything else at the present time, Sir Auckland declared, because without understanding there can be no friendship and without friendship there can be no co-operation.

"Here is the problem," said Sir Auckland: "Co-operation which is urgently needed between us is only possible on a basis of friendship and friendly trust. International friendship is only possible on a basis of mutual respect and understanding."

ENGLISH WOMEN ARE "BETTING MAD"

London, July 3.—Some of the London newspapers lament that English women and girls have gone "betting mad," and that it is a common thing for girls in offices, on the stage, married women and even school girls to lay wagers varying from six pence to a pound.

"Why shouldn't we gamble?" one pretty office girl asked. "Now the war is over we must have some harmless excitement mustn't we?"

"Some of us bet on tennis and golf, on engagements to marry, and even on what word people will open conversation with."

A business man complained that his office girls "chatter more about their bets than their work" and another declared his cook seemed "more concerned about odds than ovens."

CONFEDERATE MONEY GOOD NOW IN GERMANY

Berlin, July 2.—American Confederate currency in large quantities has been discovered in circulation in Berlin and other parts of Germany. Outlawed paper money has found ready takers among the unsuspecting who have exchanged it for marks at current rates. One merchant is known to have given 28,000 marks for a bundle of Confederate bills. The American chamber of commerce here has issued a warning urging Germans and all others to have American money carefully inspected by banks before accepting it.

PLAN MOTOR CAMP FOR THE TOURISTS

Marion County Board of Trade Meets in Regular Session Tomorrow Night

In order that Ocala may be of service to thousands of motor tourists who will come into the state during the coming season, the Marion County Board of Trade, at its regular meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock will take up the matter of establishing a modern motor camp, to be built in keeping with the very latest ideas of motor camp construction.

An unprecedented tourist travel is looked for during the coming season, and in face of this there is a housing shortage throughout the state. It is believed that motor camps will help greatly to relieve the congestion. The vast number of motor tourists who have taken to the roads throughout the United States in the last two or three years have caused towns and cities to make preparations to take care of these travelers. The registration books in some camps, even in small towns, show that tens of thousands of motorists take advantage of the camps during a season. Camps are laid out according to a definite plan. A central pavilion is usually provided for the comfort of the motorists. Water and light are supplied and in some places even fuel. Many cities provide a caretaker, who also has police powers.

At tomorrow night's meeting of the Board of Trade, there will also be discussed a plan for opening a series of band concerts during the winter months.

The Prohibition Crown, Now on Exhibit at Lincoln, Neb., Has No Charm for His Massive Brow

(Associated Press)
Lincoln, Neb., July 21.—The prohibitionist party opened its thirteenth annual convention today prepared to devote much of the three days' sessions to jubilation over the downfall of John Barleycorn. The indications are that such matters as nominees and party platform planks would give way for at least two days to a jubilee. William Jennings Bryan apparently is the favorite for the presidential nomination, but friends here claiming to speak for Bryan reiterate his previous statements that he would not accept the nomination.

CANING OF GIRLS UNPOPULAR

(Associated Press)
London, July 3.—Caning of girl pupils in elementary schools by their male teachers, a practice which has been general in England for many years, recently has become the subject of much criticism and the Daily Mail has started an agitation for its abandonment. Many letters have been written to the newspapers, the majority of the writers advocating infliction of corporal punishment of girls, when necessary, by women teachers. They protest that a sensitive girl may never fully recover from the "shame of being caned by a man."

THE WORLD'S GREATEST SUPER-DREADNAUGHTS

U. S. Navy's Recent Contracts Will Supply World's Greatest Fighting Machines

Carolina, Iowa and Massachusetts, which have recently been laid down. The biggest change in appearance from the Tennessee, our latest addition to the navy, is the arrangement of the single smoke stack, there being three separate stacks at the deck line which come together half way up and join into one immense affair.

These ships will be one-third again as large as the Tennessee and Mis-issippi, being 684 feet long, 106 feet beam and displacing 43,200 tons with a speed of twenty-three knots. Their main battery will consist of twelve 16-inch guns which will fire a weight of approximately 31,000 pounds, or almost double that of the present day super-dreadnaughts whereas the complement will be practically the same, there being 62 officers and 1289 men on board.
